EVE-Scout Enclave Overview

There tends to be some confusion around the difference between EvE-Scout and Signal Cartel.

EvE-Scout was the original corporation dedicated to providing the Thera connection information to New Eden

Signal Cartel grew out of pilots that assisted in the mapping of Thera and eventually looked to dedicate their counter-culture approach to EVE to a new entity

EVE-Scout History

Thera and the Shattered Systems

2014 saw the Rhea expansion introduce the shattered wormhole systems and Thera - the crossroads of New Eden

G8Keeper and Johnny Splunk begin building the framework to share connections ... EvE-Scout

Volunteers from the greater EVE community were eager to help scan Thera's wormholes as scouts.

“When we launched the Thera scanning project we wanted to provide neutral information to all of New Eden. Not to favor one group over another.” - Johnny Splunk

Due to EvE-Scout's dedicated and trusted scout team, the service became the de facto source of Thera wormhole connection information.

Those Thera volunteer scouts began to bind together - They wanted the corp to be neutral to all, counter-culture in ideology, and of course exploration-centric.

The Credo

Signal Cartel is a service corporation to all of New Eden. In this role, members are encouraged to treat all players with respect regardless of affiliation. In challenging situations, our goal is to look for a graceful resolution and set an example of dignity and friendship through our actions.

We embrace the attitude of a true explorer: we are friendly to others in our travels, neutral and never initiating aggression, and endeavoring at all times be perceived by the New Eden community as a non-threat. Although we never intentionally seek to harm, we may defend our friends and our ships. In suffering losses, we respond with good cheer and shed no tears. In this way, we aim to be recognized and respected by all across the cluster and left in peace to do our work.

Among our own ranks and with others, we are patient and generous with knowledge, ideas, and experiences. We foster a mentoring culture by answering questions, freely sharing experiences and learning resources, and when possible offering rookies one-on-one tutoring.
